

Upright Dynamic MRI Reveals Hidden Disc Herniation

Images courtesy of Melville MRI, P.C.

Clinical Case Overview

The axial standing-extension gradient echo image (right) demonstrates a focal posterior disc herniation at the C4/5 level not visible on the recumbent scan. Note the associated spinal cord compression on the standing-extension scan.